

KIX Spotters Day 2019 for aviation fans - To be simultaneously held at 23 airports worldwide -

Kansai Airports is delighted to announce that Kansai International Airport (KIX) will hold its second annual Spotters Day event for plane spotters—aviation enthusiasts who enjoy taking photos of aircraft—on November 16, 2019.

Spotters Day 2019 is an event where aviation fans will be invited to the normally inaccessible airside areas and to photograph planes of Japanese and foreign airlines. During the event, the participating spotters can fully enjoy taking magnificent photos of aircraft taking off and landing right in front of their eyes from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. This year's event will simultaneously take place at 23 airports (including KIX) of VINCI Airports Group in 11 countries (Japan, US, Costa Rica, Cambodia, Dominican Republic, Chile, France, Portugal, UK, Serbia, Brazil), with a total of 400 spotters expected to participate around the world.

Through Kansai Airports' official Instagram account, 80 aviation lovers applied to participate in the KIX event against the six-participant limit. Photos taken during the event will be posted on social media such as Instagram and Twitter with the hashtag #VINCIAirportsSpottersDay so that a selection of incredible photos taken at the participating airports worldwide will be available to everyone.

Kansai Airports continues to create a new travel experience through exciting events for all customers.
