CEOs' comment on full recovery of KIX access bridge

Yoshiyuki Yamaya, Representative Director and CEO, and Emmanuel Menanteau, Representative Director and Co-CEO, Kansai Airports, made the following comment on the full recovery of the KIX access bridge.

"We are very pleased to hear the announcement on the reopening of all six lanes of the access bridge scheduled for April 8, 2019. With this development, all airport functions including airport access will be fully restored after Typhoon Jebi. We are truly grateful for all the kind support that everyone has extended to us.

Kansai Airports will continue to put all out efforts to make its airports more disaster resilient in close coordination with stakeholders, thereby providing more safety and security to all airport users."
