

Positive with COVID-19 at Kansai Airports (fifth case)

Kansai Airports confirmed that Co-CEO, BENOIT RULLEAU, tested positive for COVID-19. Currently, we are taking steps to prevent the spread of the virus, following the guidance from the public health center.

Co-CEO last came to the office on November 25. On the night of November 28, RULLEAU felt something wrong with his sense of taste, and therefore, took a PCR test on November 30 and received a positive result on December 1. As of today, RULLEAU's condition is stable with no fever and conducting a self-quarantine at home according to the instructions from the public health center.

Several members of KAP who are identified to have had close contact with the Co-CEO have been instructed to self-quarantine at home and the Co-CEO's office has been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected.

No close contact with customers has been identified.

Kansai Airports will continue to place the highest priority on the safety of customers and employees, as well as strive to prevent the spread of infection in cooperation with the public health center, the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare and other government agencies, with strict COVID-19 safety measures put in place.

Kansai Airports was established by a consortium made up of VINCI Airports and ORIX Corporation as its core members. Kansai Airports took over the operations of Kansai International Airport (“KIX”) and Osaka International Airport (“ITAMI”) from New Kansai International Airport Company (“NKIAC”) and has been operating the two airports since April 1, 2016.

Kansai Airports Kobe, Kansai Airports’ wholly-owned subsidiary, took over the operations of Kobe Airport (“KOBE”) from Kobe City and started its business as an operating company on April 1, 2018.

Under the concept of “One Kansai Airports Group”, Kansai Airports group strives to continuously improve its services for all airport guests through appropriate investments and efficient operations, with safety and security being the top priority. Kansai Airports group aims to maximize the potential of the three airports, for the benefit of the communities they serve.
