

KIX, ITAMI, and KOBE to share joint video message to mark 2021 Sky Day

Kansai Airports Group is delighted to announce that a Sky Day video message will be delivered in collaboration with stakeholders of the three airports it operates — Kansai International Airport (KIX), Osaka International Airport (ITAMI), and Kobe Airport (KOBE).

Organized by the KIX Sky Day and Sky Season Committee, this initiative commemorates the Sky Day on September 20, the day established in 1992 by the government to increase public understanding of aviation, which is followed by the 10-day Sky Season through September 30.

The video is a collaborative work of airport operations staff including the Civil Aviation Bureau, airlines, and ground handlers to help the public learn more about aviation. And it aims to communicate a positive message to children who wish to engage in aviation business in the future, and share a hopeful vision toward recovery from the Covid-19 pandemic.

The airport experience is an enjoyable part of a journey. Keeping this in mind, Kansai Airports Group remains committed to ensuring, in cooperation with its partners, that passengers feel safe and comfortable throughout their journey.
