KIX to carry out comprehensive aircraft rescue and firefighting drill

Kansai Airports will conduct a comprehensive aircraft rescue and firefighting drill at Kansai International Airport (KIX) on October 24, 2024.

This drill, performed annually according to the Kansai International Airport Emergency Plan, is intended to assess preparedness in case of an aircraft accident at or near KIX. Its participants will verify the effectiveness of the Emergency Plan and ensure prompt and appropriate firefighting, rescue and medical activities in close coordination and cooperation with relevant organizations. This year, the exercise will be held in the evening (while a drill simulating a night-time scenario was performed four years ago).

Kansai Airports Group will continue to strive for a safe and secure airport environment for all passengers through a variety of emergency exercises.

Shaping a New Journey

Kansai Airports was established by a consortium made up of VINCI Airports and ORIX Corporation as its core members. Kansai Airports took over the operations of Kansai International Airport (“KIX”) and Osaka International Airport (“ITAMI”) from New Kansai International Airport Company (“NKIAC”) and has been operating the two airports since April 1, 2016.

Kansai Airports Kobe, Kansai Airports’ wholly-owned subsidiary, took over the operations of Kobe Airport (“KOBE”) from Kobe City and started its business as an operating company on April 1, 2018.

Under the concept of “One Kansai Airports Group”, Kansai Airports group strives to continuously improve its services for all airport guests through appropriate investments and efficient operations, with safety and security being the top priority. Kansai Airports group aims to maximize the potential of the three airports, for the benefit of the communities they serve.
