New Hainan Airlines flight between KIX and Chongqing!

Kansai Airports is pleased to announce that Hainan Airlines (HU) will commence its new flights between Kansai International Airport (KIX) and Chongqing Jiangbei International Airport (CKG) starting March 30.

Hainan Airlines, based in Hainan Province, which consists of islands in southern China, offer flights to many cities across China and around the world. At KIX, the airline currently operates routes to Beijing and Shenzhen, with plans to resume flights to Haikou from April 1. Chongqing, with a population exceeding 30 million, is one of the world's largest cities and a major economic and logistics hub in inland China, historically known for its thriving machinery industry. The new route is expected to further expand business and tourism exchanges between the two cities.

Kansai Airports Group will continue to expand its air network, enhance customer convenience, and create comfortable and enjoyable travel experiences.

Kansai Airports was established by a consortium made up of VINCI Airports and ORIX Corporation as its core members. Kansai Airports took over the operations of Kansai International Airport ("KIX") and Osaka International Airport ("ITAMI") from New Kansai International Airport Company ("NKIAC") and has been operating the two airports since April 1, 2016.

Kansai Airports Kobe, Kansai Airports' wholly-owned subsidiary, took over the operations of Kobe Airport ("KOBE") from Kobe City and started its business as an operating company on April 1, 2018.

Under the concept of "One Kansai Airports Group", Kansai Airports group strives to continuously improve its services for all airport guests through appropriate investments and efficient operations, with safety and security being the top priority. Kansai Airports group aims to maximize the potential of the three airports, for the benefit of the communities they serve.
